FRENCH AEROPLANES BOMBARD STATION

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
PARIS, Oct. 2.—A squadron of sixty-five French aeroplanes today bombarded the railway station at Vouziers and the aviation grounds near Challerange, according to the official statement issued tonight by the French war office.
No additional progress is recorded for the Allies.
The text follows:
"Our heavy artillery has co-operated with the British fleet in the bombardment of the German batteries at Westende, Belgium.
"In Artois the enemy directed on our entire front between Neuville St. Vaast and the wood to the north of Souchez a violent cannonade, to which we very energetically replied.
"Intense Bombardment.
"An intense bombardment by both sides has occurred to the north of Berry-Aux-Bac in the direction of the Cholora farm and to the south in the direction of Saigneul.
"On the Champagne front there has been cannonading on all sides, in which the enemy has again made use of shells containing suffocating gases.
"Between the Meuse and the Moselle, to the north of Elly, there have been several outbursts from the German artillery against our trenches, but our batteries put a stop to this.
"In Lorraine a new and strong reconnaissance of the enemy was repulsed and dispersed to the south of the forest of Parroy.
"Balkon is Burned.
"In Champagne one of our aeroplanes hit a hostile balloon which dropped to the earth in flames.
"A squadron of sixty aeroplanes today bombarded the railway station at Vouziers, the aviation ground near the town and the station at Challerange. or any other organization.
Plan is Outlined.
At a meeting today, Mr. Rockefeller outlined the plan in a speech to the men, who then discussed it. The sprinkling of members of the United Mine Workers among the delegates made no opposition and the vote of approval of the Rockefeller proposal was unanimous.
The expenses of the miners delegates in attending the meeting were paid by the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, which also reimbursed the men for the time they lost in leaving the mines and coming to Pueblo.
The miners' referendum on the industrial plan is expected to be completed early next week. Offers of the company indicated a belief that there would be little opposition among the miners.

PLAN NOT TO ROOT OUT ALL THE EVILS

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
DENVER, Colo., Oct. 2.—The Rockefeller industrial plan approved at Pueblo today by company officers, superintendents and miners' representatives will not "eradicate fundamental evils" in the opinion of Robert H. Harlin, Percy Tietlow and James F. Moran, representing the international executive board of the United Mine Workers of America in charge of the Colorado district.
The committee in a formal statement, however, expressed the belief that the plan will unquestionably be of benefit to the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company and it sincerely carried out, will no doubt eradicate some of the lesser evils that have existed so long in the southern Colorado coal fields."

PROSPECTS FOR THE 1915 TOBACCO CROP EXCEED LAST YEAR

Growers and Government Officials Predict 10,000,000 Crop 1915 Season.

HUNTINGTON, Oct. 2.—The West Virginia tobacco crop this year far exceeds all expectations and will likely be the largest in years, according to statements made by local tobacco men who have been over the district and have made a survey of the outlook for the 1915 crop. Besides surpassing last year's crop in poundage, the crop this season shows promise of a much higher quality and color.
It is estimated that about eighty per cent of the crop has been cut and that it is now in sheds, ready for stripping. According to figures compiled by the Western Tobacco Journal from statistics furnished by the government, the crop this year will produce over eighty-eight per cent, which figured in pounds, will make the bumper crop in West Virginia about 10,000,000 pounds as compared with only 8,856,000 pounds last year.
From the same source, it was estimated on September 1 that the prospect for the 1915 crop were one per cent more favorable than the average for the last ten years.
Kentucky crops, as did those of all southern districts, improved wonderfully during August. Prior to that time the percentage of marketable crops was below the average, but this improved until now it exceeds that of former years. The best growing conditions prevailed in Virginia and Ohio where ninety per cent of the entire crop is assured.
The local warehouses are being gotten into shape and will be opened within a few weeks to receive early shipments for the opening of the market. The selling, however, will not be begun until after the first of December.
Local experts say that unless the tobacco of the surrounding districts becomes barn burned or is depreciated in handling, the quality will exceed that of any former year. The tobacco as a whole shows a nice bright color and is of a much better quality than the 1914 crop.

Ship Terribly Battered.
The Wilvin liner City of Tampico, of Vera Cruz, arrived here today with all its twenty-five passengers safe after a terrific battering by the winds and waves in the Gulf of Mexico on Wednesday and Wednesday night. Two Mexican sailors were swept overboard and drowned.
Officers and passengers, a number of whom were women and children, relate thrilling stories of the steamer's fight with the hurricane about twenty miles out from the mouth of the river. The liner apparently was nearer the center of the storm.
Span Around Lake Top.
"All the passengers put on life preservers and it was feared we might be drowned any instant," said R. A. Agnew, a passenger. "At times the ship was spun around like a top bit wind, then the huge waves would roll completely over her. There was water in every stateroom and all aboard were drenched."
Five women and their eleven children perished at De La Croix when the five husbands clung to the roof of a house almost within reach of their loved ones struggling in the water, according to the story told by a relative of one of the survivors arriving here. The women and children had been placed on a ship by the two Mexican sailors were swept over-

NEW COMMANDER

Is Coming to Handle Situation on the Mexican Side of the Border Line.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
BROWNSVILLE, Oct. 2.—Peace along the lower Rio Grande frontier depends almost wholly on the action of the Carranza authorities in stopping the unrestricted use of the Mexican side of the river as a refuge from pursuit and justice, American army officers said today.
Army officers indicted clearly that virtually all of the Mexican raiders have been forced temporarily across the Rio Grande. Reports from the Carranza authorities in Matamoros admitted the presence of nearly 100 of these raiders on the Mexican side.
Announcement today by General E. P. Nafarrate at Matamoros that a new Carranza commander was coming to handle the border situation on the Mexican side and the Carranza officers were seeking out the hiding place of bandits relieved the tension somewhat on the American side.

STATE BOARD

Makes Protests against Proposed Advance in Freight Rates on Coal.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
WHEELING, Oct. 2.—Charging that the proposed advance in freight rates on West Virginia coal of fifteen cents per ton is a blow at the general prosperity of the state, the executive committee of the West Virginia State Board of Trade in a special meeting here today adopted resolutions embodying vigorous protests against the action contemplated by the railroads.
It is hinted that the advance which would increase the differential on coal shipped to western and lake points to forty cents is a plot originated in nearby states who are finding it difficult to compete with the West Virginia mines.
The board approved the action of the public service commission in co-operating with others to defeat the proposition. Ex-Governor A. B. Fleming, Thomas I. Brett, of Fairmont; F. P. Grosscup, of Charleston; W. P. Hubbard, of C. McKinley, W. B. Irvine, George W. Lutz and Roy B. Naylor, of Wheeling, were present.

GREAT BUSINESS IN SEMENDRIA

Indeed, Town is One of First Commercial Size in Serbian Country.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—"Semendria, where the shells from Austro-German batteries fell in preparation for the Teutonic drive toward the Golden Horn, is one of the first commercial towns of Serbia," says a war primer just issued by the National Geographic Society. "Serbia is an agricultural country. Pigs and grain are its ranking exports, and the greater part of the Serbian export in pigs, and almost all of its export in cereals, passed through Semendria in peace times. Its trade has been done chiefly with Vienna and Budapest. Among its exports are a superior white grape and a delicious wine.
"There is an interesting tradition connected with the grapes of Semendria. It is told that the Serbian Prince George Brankovich brought cuttings of the grape vines of Semendria and planted them upon his sunny estate in Hungary, when he became the lord of Tokay there. This transplanting of the Serbian grapes took place in the fifteenth century, and it is from these imported vines that Hungary's famous spicy white wine, Tokay came. Thus, the little Serbian city is the great ancestor of the Magyar's best known product, the fiery, aromatic glass from Hungary which is prized by connoisseurs the world around.
Famous Site.
"Semendria lies upon the Danube, between Belgrade and the Iron Gates. It is distant about thirty miles southeast from the Serbian capital. It is said to stand upon the site of the Roman town Nohs Aureus, and legend has it that its famous grape vines were planted by the Roman emperor Probus. Therefrom it may be seen that the royal wine had an imperial beginning, and the perfect product of today can boast a long and glorious past.
"At one time, a powerful fortress guarded the approach to the city. It was a thick-walled, triangular structure, said to have been built in 1430, and for a long time it was the distinguishing feature of the small place and the river crossing which it guarded. Semendria has been under attack several times in the course of its history, and one battle of great importance took place here in 1811, when the Turks forced a passage into Hungary through a Danube choked with the bodies of the heroic Magyar defenders.
Former Capital.
"Semendria has often been a favored residence of the Serbian ruler, and from 1430 to 1459 it was the capital of the state. The town has a picturesque setting upon the broad river, here narrowing for its passage of the Iron Gates just below it. The country around it is broken and wooded. The population is about 7,500 and, despite a thriving wine production and an expanding com-

SURETY
Surrenders Negro Porter Who is Charged with Violating Liquor Law.

Frank Cunningham, the negro porter who got tangled up with the prohibition law two or three weeks ago by carrying two glasses, which happened to contain whiskey, from the railroad station to the interurban trolley station, will have to remain in the county jail until the next term of the criminal court unless he finds a new bondsman.
Frank was sentenced a few days ago by a magistrate to serve ten days on the county roads for unlawfully riding a train in the local railroad yards. The man who went on his bond then decided that he did not want to stand surety for him any longer and surrendered him into the custody of the county. As a consequence Magistrate R. Edward Kidd wrote out a commitment for Frank, under which he is to be kept in jail until the next grand jury meets or until he finds a new bondsman. Frank was still in jail when this action was taken Saturday.
